

NIMROD Agreement Form

NIMROD usage and code access is subject to the following End-User License Agreement (EULA). This EULA specifies our expectations of good scientific conduct.

Terms of Agreement

1. The NIMROD code (binaries and source) will not be redistributed to third parties.
2. Publications or figures made with the NIMROD code will acknowledge the NIMROD code.
3. Any paper being submitted to a journal for publication using NIMROD results must be sent to the NIMROD team at the time of submission. Email preprint (pdf or link) to publication@nimrodteam.org.
4. All input files and modifications to the code sufficient to reproduce a simulation that is published in a peer-reviewed journal are to be provided to the NIMROD team upon request.
5. It is understood that the NIMROD code is still under development and thus may not contain the physics or features that users need or want for their problem of interest.
6. It is understood that the NIMROD team does not guarantee that support will be available to users of the code and that extensive support from a NIMROD team member(s) generally implies that published work will include that team member(s) as co-author(s).
7. The source code must retain the LICENSE file.

Name: Organization:

Citizenship (US residency if app.):

Mailing Address:

Email Address:

Gitlab username:

What is your computational background?

What is your research goal for the NIMROD Code? Who is your team member collaborator?

Any comments or special requests:

I agree to the above Terms of Agreement and certify that the information submitted in the form is true.

Signature:

Date: